FIELD DAY FILLS CITY WITH MUSIC OF DRUMS AND FIFES SATURDAY

Seven fife and drum corps paraded and competed here Saturday afternoon in annual field day of the Thread City Continental Drum Corps of Willimantic, which the Willimantic people were induced to hold in Norwich this year at through the efforts of the Norwich Chamber of Commerce and the Retail Merchants Bureau. About twenty-five drum corps had been expected to come here, but there was a conflicting data with drum corps day at a caraval in New Britain, which drew off to that city many of those who had been expected to come here.

Celebration of the day began with the parade at 2 o'clook from the Buckinsham Memorial to Chelsea parade over the line of march along Main street and up Broadway to the parade. From the time the marchers started to form for the parade at 2 o'clook from the Buckinsham Memorial to Chelsea parade over the line of march along Main street and up Broadway to the parade. From the time the marchers started to form for the parade until late at night, the shrill notes of the fires and piccolos and the rattle of the drums resounded through the city and the bright colors of the uniformed members were to be seen every where around the center of the city.

After a luncheon served at 12.30 for the visitors by the chamber of commerce, the boys were ready for the parade. Crowds filled the streets to see this novelty for Norwich, each corps with its drum major and in full uniform.

PULLED FIRE ALARM BOX. DION'T KNOW WHAT IT WAS

DIDN'T ENOW WHAT IT WAS

The fire department was called out on a needless run Saturday afternoon about 5.14 o'clock when a false alarm was pulled in from box 618, smith avenue.
Windred Nutser, 13 year old daughter of John Nutier of No. 533 Central avenue, who pulled in the box, told Chief St.
L. Stanton and the pollos that she did not know what the box was for and was ignorant of the fact that she had called out the fire department until they appeared on the scope.

Winifred, with two younger sisters 7 and 5 years of age, had walked over to the Preston side of the fiver. When they noticed the box curiosity got the best of them. They wanted to find out what it was and also wanted to have a look inside.

The older of the three girls investigated the mysterious box and a couple of minutes later was startled when several pieces of fire apparatus appeared in sight.
